HELP GRIFFITH REVIEW ADVANCE PUBLIC DEBATE

JOIN OUR PATRONS' PROGRAM

Griffith REVIEW is Australia's most important literary magazine. The future of literary magazines is the Griffith REVIEW model.

Frank Moorhouse

Griffith REVIEW was established in 2003 by Griffith University as a non-partisan quarterly literary journal with 'a pragmatically reforming heart' and reflects the University's commitment to share knowledge across traditional boundaries, promote civic dialogue and participation.

Our vision is to produce the best Australian literary journal advancing public discussion by supporting authors in the creation of excellent and innovative writing, and provide readers with topical, high quality writing of significant public value.

Griffith REVIEW, under the guidance of founding editor Professor Julianne Schultz AM FAHA:

- » Has established a reputation as the leading Australian quarterly of new writing and ideas and is the most awarded literary journal in Australia.
- » Continues to compete on the international stage and is compared favourably to publications such as The Economist, the New Yorker and Granta.
- » Provides a non-partisan forum for fine Australian writing across all genres.
- » Elucidates and encourages reflection by publishing considered essays, detailed reporting, outstanding memoir, fiction, poetry and photography.
- » Showcases the best established and emerging writers with an extensive archive featuring the works of over 700 authors.
- » Has consistently anticipated and adapted to changing trends in media and publishing and provides an innovative model for success.
- » Is a high quality, agenda-setting resource, delivering insight into the issues that matter in a timely, authoritative and engaging fashion.

Griffith REVIEW makes an exceptional impact on the national conversation and plays a vital role in identifying and developing new literary talent, thanks in part to the loyalty and generosity of thousands of subscribers and Patrons.

Can you imagine a world without Griffith REVIEW?
